In 2022, the Foundation recognized the unique emotional burdens that children of first responders carry. We added our Resiliency Program that empowers children to cope with stress, manage their fears and build mental resilience. The goal of the program is to protect and strengthen the mental resiliency of the children of police, firefighters, sheriffs, Emergency Medical Technicians, and 911 dispatchers.

In 2024, the program was available to first responder families in eight states: Arizona, California, Florida, Hawaii, New Jersey, New York, Tennessee, and Texas. The program continues to develop and is expected to expand into more states. In 2024, this program served 153 first responder children, providing 2,720 hours of free, one-on-one mental health counseling by culturally competent, licensed professionals.

Financial Assistance

This program honors the sacrifice first responders make by providing critical financial assistance when misfortune strikes by continuing emergency assistance to hundreds of families with our bereavement, disaster relief, and family hardship grants. The Foundation has a "grants committee" comprised of members of the Board of Directors that review applications, set criteria, and determine award amounts. Our newest program is "Financial Wellness" seminars. We began offering these seminars in the fourth quarter of 2024 to empower families with knowledge and tools they need to secure their financial future.

Our work helps children of first responders achieve their dreams through scholarships and a powerful network. In 2024, the Foundation awarded 366 scholarships. In addition, scholarship recipients are eligible to participate in our "Scholars Council" which provides peer-to-peer support; career readiness; and leadership mentoring. Scholars can also take advantage of mental health counseling, a curated "Speaker Series" with professional leaders across various industries, and Financial Wellness education.

Community Outreach

This program impacted over 140,000 children in 2024 to forge lasting relationships between communities and public safety agencies. We create positive, fun experiences that connect children with their local first responders. These grants allowed agencies to host Junior First Responder camps and Public Safety events to build healthy relationships between children and first responders as well as inspire a new generation of heroes to consider careers in public safety.

Our signature event, the "Thanksgiving Day Breakfast" was held in November 2001 following the aftermath of September 11, 2001 to help heal the spirits of first responder families. Subsequently, at this annual event, we honor first responders who have made the ultimate sacrifice and give thanks to their families who also sacrifice year-round to keep us safe. More than 24,000 children and relatives of first responders have attended the breakfast over the years, which includes free "VIP" viewing of the "Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade" thanks to corporate and individual

The Foundation hosts a "Roll Call of Heroes" ceremony held on a national stage in New York City's Times Square and honors a first responder in each line of work who has risked their life to rescue others. The honorees received the award on behalf of all first responders in their respective first responder category. We also received proclamations from the President of the United States of America; the governors of twenty States; and the Mayor of New York City.

"Toy Express Program"

The Foundation's "Toy Express Program" delivered toys to agencies and hospitals in two hundred communities across the country. The holiday season is a natural opportunity for first responders to brighten the holidays for children, particularly in underserved areas, and strengthen community bonds. The Foundation also makes a special effort to deliver toys and care packages to 120 families in the United States with children who lost a first responder parent or guardian.
